Course Curriculum

Module 1: Marketing and Digital Marketing Fundamentals

This module lays the foundation for the program by introducing core marketing concepts such as the Marketing Mix, STP, and customer journey mapping. Participants will explore the scope and importance of digital marketing while gaining an overview of key channels including websites, social media, email, and mobile platforms. The module also covers persona building, goal setting, budgeting, and campaign planning, reinforced through real world case studies of successful digital strategies.

Module 2: SEO and SEM

This module builds expertise in Search Engine Optimization and Search Engine Marketing to enhance online visibility. Participants will learn on page and off page SEO techniques, stay updated on emerging trends, and practice effective keyword research. The module also covers Google Ads campaign setup, Google AdSense fundamentals, and performance metrics using tools such as SEMrush. A practice driven approach ensures learners can apply SEO or SEM strategies to real world scenarios.

Module 3: Social Media and Influencer Marketing

This module explores the power of social platforms such as Instagram, LinkedIn, Meta and YouTube for building brand engagement. Participants will learn to design platform specific content strategies, segment audiences effectively, and manage influencer partnerships from selection to execution. The module also covers creating and optimizing paid social advertising campaigns and concludes with a hands on workshop to design a comprehensive social media strategy.

Module 4: Content Creation Using AI Tools

This module equips participants with practical skills in AI driven content development. Learners will experiment with tools such as ChatGPT, Canva, Gemini, and video creation platforms to generate compelling text, visual, and video content. The module covers content ideation, copywriting, landing page design, and optimization techniques, while also addressing issues of AI bias and ethical use in marketing. A project based assignment challenges participants to develop a complete AI enabled content marketing campaign.

Module 5: Campaign Management in Digital Marketing

This module emphasizes the role of analytics in managing and optimizing digital campaigns. Participants will learn the essentials of Google Analytics for setup, navigation, and reporting, and explore data visualization tools such as Power BI, Tableau, and Excel to interpret insights effectively. The module also provides hands on training in A/B testing, experiment design, and attribution modeling, enabling accurate ROI calculation and data driven decision making for campaign success.

Module 6: Performance Management Using Data Analytics and Automation

This module focuses on scaling digital marketing efforts through automation and AI driven personalization. Participants will gain practical experience with tools such as HubSpot, Mailchimp, and Zapier to create streamlined workflows and integrated campaigns. The module also explores hyper personalization across WhatsApp, SMS, and email using AI, along with an in depth look at programmatic advertising including real time bidding and ad exchanges to maximize campaign efficiency and reach.

Module 7: Capstone Project

The Capstone Project serves as the program's culminating experience, enabling participants to integrate and apply skills learned across all modules. Working in teams, participants will design and execute a comprehensive digital marketing campaign from strategy development and channel selection to execution across SEO, SEM, social media, content, and automation tools. The project includes the use of AI tools such as ChatGPT and Canva for strategy and content creation, and employs Google Analytics and other platforms for performance measurement. The module concludes with a presentation, feedback session, and showcase, providing participants with practical, outcome driven experience in managing real world campaigns.
