ADVANCED PROJECT MANAGEMENT AND STRATEGIC LEADERSHIP

ABOUT THE PROGRAM

In today's dynamic business landscape, professionals shoulder greater responsibility than ever before, particularly in navigating complex projects crucial to their organizations. Program and project leaders are constantly challenged with addressing strategic, tactical, and technical issues, often engaging in firefighting scenarios. The Advanced Project Management & Strategic Leadership program is designed to equip students with the essential skills in project management and business leadership. This comprehensive program not only delves into all project management knowledge areas outlined in the latest edition of the PMI® A Guide to the Project Management Body of Knowledge (PMBOK® Guide) by the Project Management Institute, Inc., but also incorporates the fundamentals of Agile Project Management, essential for contemporary industries. Throughout the second module, participants will move beyond the mechanical aspects of projects to explore the intricacies of managing relationships. The third module expands the scope to include stakeholder, client, and executive relationship management, organizational culture and diversity, and effective leadership within project teams. The fourth module focuses on leveraging data-driven analytics to enhance project performance amid uncertainty. Moreover, the program integrates Action-Oriented Projects, providing participants with opportunities to apply their newfound knowledge directly in their workplaces. Additionally, each individual will benefit from three hours of professional mentoring, further enhancing their learning experience.
